

Information on input to the Cape Town Declaration on a Global Response to Dementia and the United Nations Working Group on Ageing

for Dementia SA Second Conference (25-26 October 2011)
Addendum to presentation by Jill Adkins, J.D., LL.M.

Cape Town Declaration on a Global Response to Dementia

The International Longevity Center Global Alliance (ILC-GA) is soliciting the input of all dementia stakeholders on the Declaration. In addition, the ILC-GA encourages organizations to formally adopt the Declaration and to add their names to the growing list of those calling for global action around dementia.

Please contact any of the following individuals with your input on the Declaration, your ideas for using the Declaration as an advocacy tool, and to tell us that your organization has adopted the Declaration:

- Dr. Monica Ferreira (Co-President of the ILC-GA and President of ILC South Africa): monica.ferreira@uct.ac.za
- Jill Adkins (Age Rights International and affiliate member of ILC South Africa): jadkins@agerightsinternational.com
- Dr. Masako Osako (ILC-GA Secretariat): masakoosako2@hotmail.com

United Nations Working Group on Ageing

The official name is the Open-ended Working Group on Ageing (OEWG). The website for the OEWG can be found at: <http://social.un.org/ageing-working-group/index.shtml>.

You will find information on the past sessions of the OEWG at this website as well as information about upcoming sessions and how you might participate. If you have any questions about the OEWG or how to participate, please contact Jill Adkins at jadkins@agerightsinternational.com.

We invite you to spread the word! Older persons need to claim their human rights and we must all promote and protect the rights of persons with dementia and their families and caregivers.

Thank you!
